“Becoming Intelligent Enterprises allows us to achieve incredible business outcomes across all dimensions.”

Most companies want nothing more than to be prepared for the future. But what does being prepared look like? And where should you focus your attention, especially when it comes to spend management?

When you're working fast to get business moving again, what you've always done may not be what's best.

Ineffective business spend management certainly can hold you back. Intelligent enterprises focus on three key building blocks: resilience, profitability and employee empowerment.

If you'd like to join the ranks of the intelligent enterprise and ReStart quickly and safely, take a look at our new SAP Concur Back to Best Bundle.

With the Back to Best Bundle, you are empowered to ReStart quickly, easily and effectively.

No matter whether employees are working from home, on the road or in the office, our Back to Best Bundle of SAP Concur services work together to create a holistic expense management solution that is both agile and scalable. The Bundle for the Intelligent Enterprise

The future brings numerous challenges. Addressing the issues of efficiency, transparency and the employee experience now gives you more control in unpredictable times.

The shift to an intelligent enterprise, one that's resilient, transparent, efficient and digital, is the way forward. You can ReStart Smart as an intelligent enterprise with SAP Concur and the Back to Best Bundle, which also gives you native integration with the SAP ecosystem and SAP S/4HANA. This direct data exchange allows you to establish consistent communication between systems.

ReStart Smart with the Back to Best Bundle

Maximise Cost Control

There's no ReStart without cost efficiency.

With the Back to Best Bundle you get control of bookings and see spend in real time.

Plus you'll create seamless processes whether employees are working remotely or working in the office, so you'll achieve improved profitability too.

Maximise Transparency

There's no ReStart without visibility into data.

The intelligent tools in the Back to Best Bundle give you maximum insight into your transactions so you can analyse your data quickly and easily.

You'll be able to uncover hidden errors and be able to make confident decisions based on robust data.

Maximise Employee Engagement

There's no ReStart without your team on board.

The tools in the Back to Best Bundle automate and accelerate your processes so you make employees' lives easier and free them up to do more meaningful, engaging work.

Maximise Cost Control

Opportunity or challenge is always right around the corner. No matter what is happening in your world, taking time to ensure your fundamental operations are running efficiently just makes good business sense. Start by gaining visibility and control over expenses. After all, you can't control what you can't see.

Regardless of whether it's a travel expense or a home working expense, Concur Expense and Expenselt gives you lasered focused cost control.

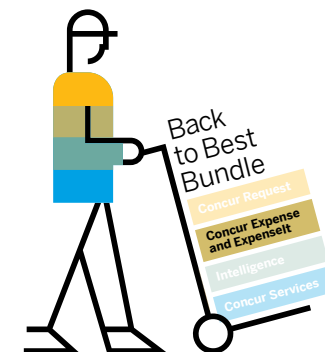

Concur Expense integrates all your expense data to effectively manage and control spending. Easily connect the different pieces and partners of your expense ecosystem - integrating travel spend, ERP, accounting and card data into a system that manages the entire process from request to reconciliation. Whether your employees are working from home, on the road or in the office, data is captured automatically with no more error-strewn, time-consuming manual data entry.

With Expenselt, no receipt is lost. Employees simply take a photo of a receipt and Expenselt creates, categorises and itemises an expense entry automatically. Reports are completed more quickly and more accurately while providing a real-time view of spend so you can improve cost control and reimburse employees faster.

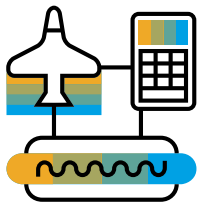

Other cost transparency tools in the Back to Best Bundle include:

- Concur Request
- Concur Intelligence

Maximise Transparency

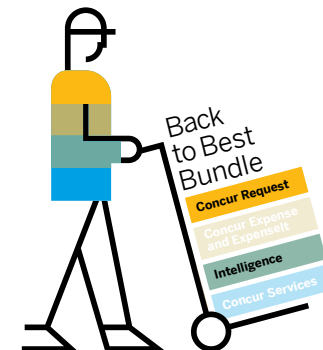

Control processes and get maximum visibility into all costs – in real time. With Concur Request and Concur Intelligence, you can save money, increase compliance, make better decisions and accelerate approval processes. A definite advantage, especially with the increase in home working.

Concur Intelligence integrates your spend and ERP data so you have a complete overview all in one place. More than 200 dashboards and reports built on best practices deliver a detailed picture of your spend that allows you to monitor trends, enforce policies and simplify your spend management. Concur Intelligence enables you to make more informed and robust decisions so you can navigate uncertainty with confidence.

Concur Request gives you increased control over your budgeting by implementing a prepurchase request and approval process. And because it builds compliance into the system, you can manage risk and avoid overspend before a booking is even made. Something that is more important than ever now, and in the future.

Maximise Employee Engagement

It has never been more important to give your employees a feeling of security and simplicity especially during uncertain times. The Back to Best Bundle means you can give your employees intelligent tools such as Expenselt, services such as User Support Desk and Single Sign On (SSO) that make everyday life a little bit easier, whether they're on the road or in the home office.

At a time when employee experience is more important than ever, your expense management system should be easy to use while reinforcing the financial discipline necessary for business continuity and resiliency.

With Expenselt, your employees can simply watch all their expenses flow into the SAP Concur system in seconds. And because it's mobile-based and syncs instantaneously, finance gets sight of spend sooner and budget holders can manage total expenditure accordingly.

The automated, end-to-end process puts an end to time-consuming, error-strewn manual data entry, resulting in resource savings and increased productivity.

With Single Sign On users can easily access SAP Concur solutions, without having to remember their separate passwords and login credentials.

Users are authenticated using their corporate login prior to being directed into the SAP Concur, saving time and providing a seamless experience.

User Support Desk gives employees access to dedicated, 24/7 support from SAP Concur experts.

They get quick answers to their questions, resulting in higher compliance, better adoption and greater productivity.

Your Bundle for Total Spend Management

The new reality is here. Regardless of the size of your business, the SAP Concur Back to Best Bundle includes all the tools you need to Restart safely and efficiently. And with rapid implementation and native SAP integration, you can get started right away. Whether your employees are on a business trip, at home, or in the office, the Back to Best Bundle gives you immediate, unprecedented flexibility, resilience and profitability while empowering your employees.

With the Back to Best Bundle you achieve:

Maximum Cost Control

Maximum Transparency

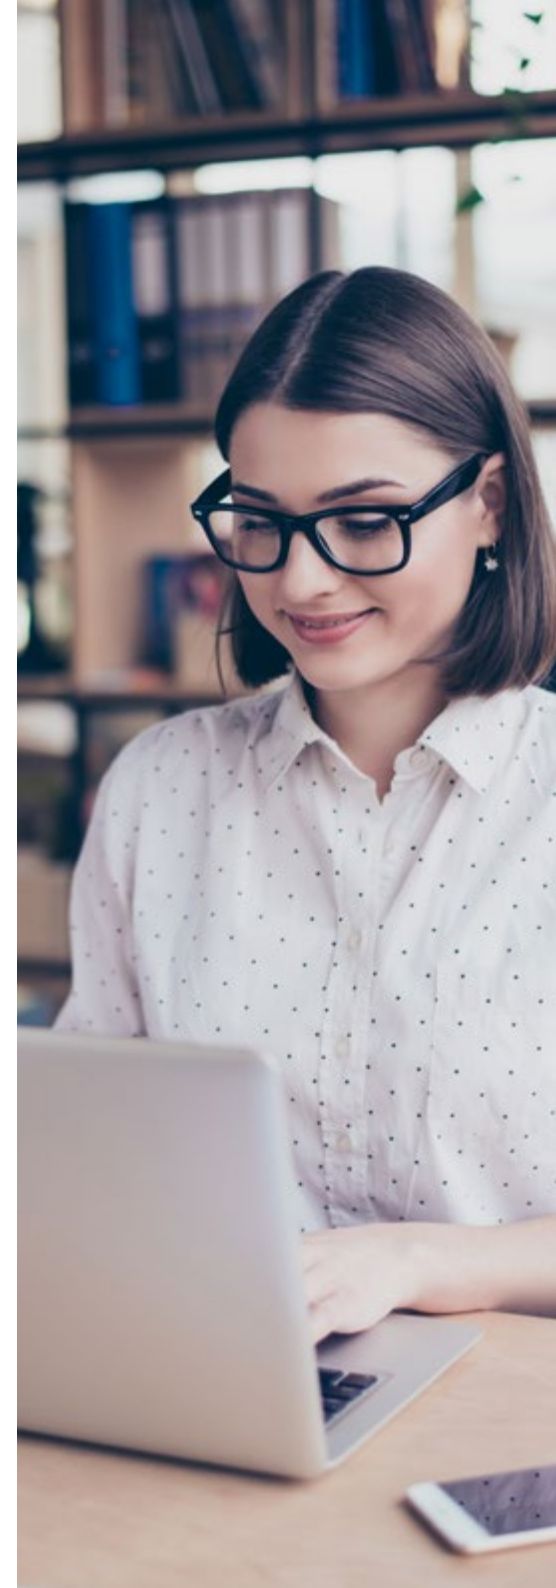

Maximum Employee Engagement
